

euronews - interview - Walid Jumblatt - June 8, 2008

Contributed by euronews
Sunday, 08 June 2008

After years of political instability in Lebanon, the recent election of President Michel Suleiman has brought a renewed sense of hope to the religiously diverse country. Veteran politician, Walid Jumblatt, heads the Progressive Socialist Party of Lebanon, and is the most prominent leader of the Druze community.

He spoke to Euronews about his country's current situation.

euronews - interview - Walid Jumblatt - June 8, 2008
{youtube}6y2uToOz8JE{/youtube}