Lebanon will not fall into the hands of Iranian agents, and we demand the opening of Klayaat airports and civil aviation garages

Washington, March 16, 2020

In these difficult circumstances that the world is going through due to the Corona virus crisis and which threatens to worsen, we can only appeal to the Lebanese to unite and cooperate in order to get out of this crisis with the least possible losses. Hence, the World Council for the Cedars Revolution sees the duty to clarify the following points:

The corrupt authority has left the Lebanese lost in terms of focusing on the deteriorating living situation rather than caring for the country's sovereignty, its destiny and the future of its generations.

- Iranian agents, who used to be blessed with the money of the Iranian people, did not find, on the scarcity of these, and the sanctions prevented smuggling incomes and money laundering, except what the Lebanese saved in banks to finance their authoritarian apparatus.

- On the day that the Coronavirus spread in the "high country", Hezbollah and its government opened the Rafic Hariri Airport wide open to receive the injured and other cases of concern without fear or conscience, and Beirut Airport has become an annex to Iran's base in the southern suburbs and no one has authority over it.

The danger that the Iranians receive medication in the suburbs hospitals is that the Lebanese state apparatus is not allowed to know the health conditions on Lebanese soil. There are no reports of injuries, nor about the number of deaths, and certainly the civilian population faces a great and unforeseeable risk.

- The health minister's behavior and his tightness towards every criticism, apparently caused by anxiety, because he knows the extent of the disaster and cannot express an opinion, so he is taking the course of the militias that command him and using terrorism against everyone who asks questions.

The danger resulting from the confiscation of the decision at Beirut airport calls for calling today, tomorrow, tomorrow, to open Klayaat airports and garages to receive civil aviation, under the supervision of the Lebanese army, with international assistance that ensures the communication of citizens and their actions without the interference of Iran and its agents.

- The uprising of the Lebanese people against the corruption of the rulers, and indeed its revolution, which was temporarily halted by the deteriorating health situation, should be alert to the goal of Iran's agents to pounce on the Lebanese banking system and impose brotherhood on it after they took control of the country's entrances and incomes and prevented any reform that could lead to its resurrection.

Come, let us hold on to the land, cling to the roots, and teach the occupiers that Lebanon remains with all its structures and all its land, and neither the armies of evil nor its agents will be strong against it.
